JOHN:

Hello, dear one. I am John, sometimes described as the disciple Jesus loved. Upon meeting Jesus, I became one of His first followers. I was then blessed to outlive all the other disciples. I'm the only one, in fact, who died of old age—the rest were killed for believing in Jesus. After a life spent learning from Jesus and following Him in ministry, I was exiled to a tiny island called Patmos, which was really hard for an old man. I have enjoyed writing about my experiences traveling with Jesus while He was on earth and telling of the miraculous things He did. I want everyone to know the truth of who He is and why He came. While I was by myself, the Lord visited me and gave me a very, very long vision—a revelation—to TELL people how the end of the world will happen. Much of it was so strange I could hardly describe it in words: flying horses, chained angels, red dragons, falling demons, lakes of fire, tons of mutant creatures! I wrote it all down though I didn't understand most of it. How could I, since it was the future? Some day, things here on earth will get even worse, but in the end, Jesus will win over all! He will return as our Savior once again. The Devil and all his servants lose, and Jesus brings everyone who loves Him to be with Him forever. How's that for a happy ending? It is my privilege to be chosen to TELL everyone this important final message.

You're part of this story too. God wants you to TELL people that Jesus will return.

ACTION VERSE:
