Lesson 2

Family Kindness

Always try to be kind.

1 Thessalonians 5:15

Stop to recall a favorite family memory. How did kindness play a part in the joy of that time? Do you remember the absence of fighting or complaining? Cooperation and consideration are definitely ways to be kind! When you see your kids playing peacefully together or when your preschooler helps set the table for dinner, do your best to notice and to thank your child. Thank you for being kind. When we are kind, it makes our family a happy place to be.

Try This:

With your preschooler, plan and do a kindness surprise—and unexpected kindness for someone else. Whether it's making daddy's favorite cookies or taking the neighbor's dog for a walk, make the plan and do that act of kindness the same day, so that your child is able to connect the plan and the action. Say, Jesus sees every kind act we do, and He remembers it. Another fun idea is to talk with your child about what kinds of things you might do if Jesus came to visit your house!
