Lesson 12

Pure Heart

Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God.

Matthew 5:8

When I see a positive trait in my kids, I sometimes nickname them, just for the day. It's a fun way to remind them of ways God is showing through them. When my child chooses to do something challenging I might call him, "Brave Heart." When he helps settle a conflict with siblings, I might call him, "Peacemaker." When he shares about Jesus with a friend, I call him, "Light Sharer." I want my kids to see God working through them, even at a young age.

Try This:

Whenever I sense a kind of spiritual apathy in my kids, I first check to be sure that I'm not the one modeling that apathy! I share with them that when I don't feel close to God, I keep talking to Him and reading His Word. I also ask God to give me more of a desire for Him and He always answers that prayer! I try to be honest about my spiritual life—this lets my kids know it is safe to talk about what God is doing in their lives, too. And when they ask, I'm always glad to pray with them for a sincere desire to know God better!
